Richon Chenin Blanc 1982 is produced from 85% Chenin Blanc and 15% French Colombard grown in the Samson region of Israel, located southeast of Tel Aviv. The wine has an attractive straw color, fragrant bouquet, and an off-dry flavor with an excellent balance between fruit and acidity.

The Cabernet Sauvignon, from the 1981 vintage, is a blend of 85% Cabernet Sauvignon, 10% Carignane and 5% Petite Sirah, also from the Samson region. It was aged in 75 gallon French Limousin oak barrels for two years. The wine is deep red with purple tints, has a slightly fruity nose and a dry, well-balanced, full-bodied flavor.

Richon wines are produced according to Jewish religious tradition and law under the supervision of the Kashruth Division of the Union of Orthodox Jewish Congregations of America. They are designated Kosher and Kosher for Passover.
